

Functional Literacy—

We will be focusing on the topic 'Travel and Tourism.' We will be learning about modes of travel, places you can visit and travel skills & safety. We will be answering questions based on our class story and creating our own travel story. Alongside this we will be working our letter formation and fine motor skills along with our reading skills.

Ways to support at home— Watch and look at different types of stories that focus on travelling or comment personal experience in the last holidays.

Focussed Texts— Our holiday adventure (Fictional text)

Functional Numeracy -

In our number lesson we are looking at numbers in our environment. We will see modes of travel focusing on familiarity and increased independence around travel routines related to the community such as bus numbers they take every day, travel skills & safety such as focusing on speed signs and identify timetable and rotas for transport. In addition we will learn about time, with a particularly focus on daily routines.

Ways to support at home: Identify numbers in the community and identifying/talking about routines.

My Body —PE

This half term we will look at individual navigational skills in PE. Thinking about moving forward, backwards side to side. Once we understand directions we will then move on to looking at trails that we can follow throughout the schools environment, using maps and photos.

Independent Living—Cook Your Own

We will learning about healthy eating habits and hygiene routines. We will continue using a visual shopping list to find the items, and follow visual and verbal instructions

Independent Living—Studio Flat

We will continue to use the upper school flat to support independence skills—using the washing machine, cooker, making the bed and hoovering/cleaning.

Good Health—PSHEEC

Our topic this half term is about celebrating ourselves and our skills. We will be identifying the skills we have and how we can utilise these

Ways to support at home: Promoting independence at home and maintaining consistency with established habits.

Employability / Independent Living— Accreditation

We are taking part in the following ASDAN topics:

- Knowing rules and people who help keep me safe
- Exploring money
- Hobbies & skill development
- Joining community facilities

Employability—Careers Education

We are learning about different key employability skills related to travel and tourism. We are going to comment our preferences of different type of jobs and do some role play. To take part in basic customer interactions and develop customer service skills
